

Barnardo's Family History Service Adoption

Legal adoption became possible in 1926 in England and Wales and 1930 in Scotland.

It is now possible for people over the age of 18, born and adopted in England or Wales, to be given information to help them to obtain their original birth certificate.

Anyone adopted before the 12th November 1975 has, by law to attend an interview with an Adoption Counsellor before the information is given.

The application form CA8 and booklet ACR100 available from the General Register Office explains the procedure.

If you were adopted after 11th November 1975 you can send for the application form CA14 and booklet ACR100. Your birth details will be sent to you or if you wish you can have the services of an Adoption Counsellor. People living outside the U.K should apply for booklets ACR101 and ACR114.

Adoption certificates are issued by the Registrar General's Office after an adoption has been recorded in the Adopted Children's Register. They replace any certificates of the original birth record.

The form and correct payment (details of which can be found on the following website: <http://www.direct.gov.uk/>) should then be sent to:

General Register Office
Adoptions
Trafalgar Road
Southport
Merseyside PR8 2HH

There is a priority service for urgent adoption certificates obtainable the next day. For more information, please visit their website.
