

About the service:

Launching in 2021, this initiative builds on the learning from the Taith project – commissioned by The Mayor's Office for Policing And Crime (MOPAC) in 2018.

Support for children and young people

We provide an effective intervention programme of up to 10 weeks for children and young people exhibiting harmful sexual behaviours. The content of the work will differ for each child, but each programme will be trauma informed, child centred and based on the outcomes of detailed initial assessments of needs.

Support for professionals

We provide support via consultations and training for professionals, including School, NHS and Children's Services staff and the police, to further understand how to effectively support children displaying HSB.
